Session introduction by Kona

Kona: All right. Welcome to the Center for Planetary Management. I'm Kona Lisa Mahu, it is August 3rd, 2026, and I'm here with Jacques in France, Juan in Venezuela, Evan in the Philippines, and Bob in Texas, and I'm in New York, U.S.A.

We have just done our very brief check-in today, Jacques is here, so he can lead us in the meditation, beautiful as usual, so take it away, Jaques.

Centering moment as a Team by Jacques

Jacques: Thank you, Kona, bonjour the team. Yes, before we finalize this beautiful magazine just relax, relax your body, take some deep breaths, quiet your mind. Connect with the universe through this beam of light, coming from the center of the universe, through your crown chakra, down to all your chakras, down to the earth. Here you are, connected to the universe, via this healing energy, protecting energy.

And as human, we'll connect our heart line clockwise around the globe, connecting always those missing on the call today. And we connect our mind line counter-clockwise to encircuit all of us as one, one heart, one mind and one soul. We ask also the guidance from our Thought Adjuster and Midwayer Friends close to us.

Now it is time to ask the guidance of our Celestial Management Team from above, the Melchizedek Team, Machiventa, Sondjah and Asiah and any other Melchizedeks or Celestial beings who want to join us. We include also those from the Sea of Glass, because we know they are very busy looking at us, guiding us as well as our Stellar Friends who are far away, but still connected with the Earth to bring wisdom and guidance.

We stay silent in this state for 3 minutes. Thank you.

Opening Prayer by Evan

Dear Father, our loving Lord, our Brother Christ Michael, Mother Nebadonia, our Angels, our Guardian Seraphim, and all the loving spiritual beings who watch over us.

We come into Your presence with grateful hearts knowing that You are always with us. We bring before You the joys of our lives, the experiences of our days, and all that we carry in our hearts. We place them in Your loving care, trusting in Your guidance, Your wisdom, and Your unfailing love.

And there are “mumbo jumbo things” in this world today. And yet you tell us to be still and to take away all these clutters and keep focused on our Guides and our Divine Parents and Celestial Team, so that we can focus our efforts to the opening of our magazine, which we hope will have a great blessing to many people around the world.

We offer these little articles that represent our work and efforts, that's our little offerings to the Father, who likes to see his children happy, content, and trying to be like Him. So, thank You very much for all that you give us, all that You bless us with. Even if it's a little troubling, we are focused on the love You have for us. And that love will never fail us, your grateful children. You want us to be doing your will, Father. Amen.

Jacques: Amen. Thank you, Evan, for your prayer. I don't know if we have some celestial message from the Sea of Glass, as usual to introduce this meeting so, let's see!

Kona: Yeah, I do feel Sondjah is with us today. So, let's see what Sondjah has to share today.

Main Addresses with Sondjah

1. Be a Stabilizing Force in a Changing World

Sondjah: Good morning, my fellow Team members. This is Sondjah with you, yes, on the Sea of Glass. Thank you, Jack, for always remembering our companions who check in with you and us at the same time as always, very interested in the progress you are making and the changes on your planet. As you have been told, you are entering into a new dispensation, and you will begin to see that unfold before you with little doubt that your planet is going to change radically before your eyes.

Do not be alarmed, as we have said before. Concentrate on where you are and preserving your community to the best of your ability. Staying centered and grounded and focused on the messages that we have continuously given you, as well as sharing the positive message of hope that you have been developing over the last two years. This will encourage you and encourage your neighbors, as they will be quite distressed. Many still do not have the connection to the Father or Christ Michael, not even Mother Nebadonia, that would give them the stability that they require in a crisis.

You have this blessing and this clarity of mind and heart and spirit, and it is to your benefit in times of crises. So, even though some of these calamities are far off, you can be a stabilizing force in your communities. Because the people in your life are going to be affected negatively by what they see. They focus too much on the calamities, even at a distance, instead of focusing on their personal well-being, their families, and their communities. So, be aware of this, and offer hope whenever you can. This will be to your advantage, and people will look to you for hope more frequently, as you will find.

We are again quite pleased with your progress and ready to make great strides with you as soon as you press the “go button” [to publish your Magazine]. Just let us know when that is.

I am happy to take questions from you today if you have any. Otherwise, I will let you move forward with your team meeting. Again, greetings from all of your Celestial Partners on the Sea of Glass, Stellar Friends, Guardians, Angels, and those beings who have an interest in the work on your planet. We all send greetings and great joy.

2. Maintaining Inner Peace Amid Collective and Family Tensions

Jacques: Thank you, Sondjah, for your words. As always, you remind us: don't focus on calamities, but look for hopes. This is a very important reminder for us, and for the Team, thank you for that.

Any question for Sondjah my friends? If you don’t have questions for now, I have one.

This week, I was with my family, with my daughter and my grandsons. And I noticed that, at times, there was some tension between family members. And I asked myself: Why is this happening? What is causing these tensions? And I said to myself, maybe this is due to the change of energy. This is due to the new dispensation, where people have to choose between the right and wrong. And they are maybe affected by the negativity around them. That was my comment and also my question: Am I correct in thinking that?

Sondjah: Thank you for your observation, and consider that you were in a different place while you were traveling [here Kona/ Sondjah is considering that I was travelling to meet my family]. So, the energies in those different places are also going to be quite different than where you are at home with stable factors. You are encountering the public and the many facets of their thought processes, and you are traveling through the collective conscience in those spaces. So, this is going to be somewhat destabilizing.

Just be aware that you are around other people, and then when you travel back, some of that energy does travel back with you. So, you must always be mindful of this, and do a mental cleansing process, and even a physical or spiritual [cleansing], to make sure that you do not bring back any of the energies that you have encountered. If there is true tension in the family, it may be unspoken fears, as we have discussed, things that are troubling or problematic. But if you remain open and loving to these family members, they will possibly eventually either melt into that love presence or confide in you what is troubling them the most.

Hopefully, this helps with the situation that you encountered.

3. Preparing to Launch the Planetary Pulse Mission

Jacques: Yes, thank you for that. Yes, thank you for that lesson. Team, other question. Concerning the magazine, maybe? Okay, if there is no further question, I would say: Yes, we are very happy to push on the button very soon. Because I think we are ready and it would be a great event for us on Earth, and probably for you on the Sea of Glass and other places too.

Sondjah: Thank you so much. Yes, we are eager to send out the troops, so to speak, to work on your behalf, connecting with those who will eventually receive this great message. So, once again, thank you for your hard work and diligence, and we will be back with you at your next meeting. And as always, reach out to any of the team in your personal time for guidance and inspiration. Thank you so much.

Jacques: Thank you, Sondjah. Thank you, Kona.

Evan: Thank you so much, Sondjah, for all your help and guidance. Thank you.

Bob Wilson: Thanks, Sondjah. Thanks, Kona.
